

Some days, when it's rainy and cloudy,
I want to look in the backyard for bugs and lizards!
I find that's when
I feel most like a girl.

But some days, when it's sunny and humid,
I want to run fast in circles around the backyard!
I find that's when
I feel most like a boy.

Then other days,
when the rain has stopped,
when the clouds have vanished,
and there's a rainbow in the sky,
I feel like a boy and a girl.
I feel like both and neither.

My rainbow reminds me
I can wear a yellow dress or blue jeans.

I can play with green and orange chalk,
or yellow and purple blocks.
