PURPOSE

All educators, staff, visitors and volunteers are committed to identifying harm or risk of harm to children and young people at the OSHC Service. We comprehend our duty of care responsibilities to protect children and young people from all types of abuse and adhere to our legislative obligations at all times.

We aim to implement effective strategies to assist in ensuring the safety and wellbeing of all children and young people. Our OSHC Service will act in the best interest of each child and young person, assisting them to develop to their full potential in a secure and child safe environment.

SCOPE

This policy applies to children, young people, families, staff, educators, approved provider, nominated supervisor, students, volunteers and visitors of the OSHC Service.

DEFINITIONS

Children and young people at risk

A child or young person will be 'at risk' if:

- they have suffered harm (being harm of a kind against which a child or young person is ordinarily protected); or
- there is a likelihood they will suffer harm; or
- there is a likelihood that the child or young person will be removed from the State (whether by their parent or guardian or by some other person)
- the parents or guardians are unable or unwilling to care for them, have abandoned them, cannot be found or are dead
- they are of compulsory school age and are persistently absent from school without explanation
- they are homeless or of no fixed address

Meaning of harm

Section 17 of the Safety Act defines 'harm' to mean physical or psychological harm (either caused by an act or omission), including harm caused by sexual, physical, mental or emotional abuse or neglect. Psychological harm does not include emotional reactions such as distress, grief, fear or anger that are a response to the ordinary vicissitudes of life.

Reasonable Grounds

Refer to the need to have an objective basis for suspecting that a child or young person is, or may be at risk of harm include:

- when your own observations of a particular child's behaviour and/or injuries lead you to suspect a child is, or may be, at risk of harm, or harm is occurring
- when a child or young person tells you, they are at risk of harm or have been harmed
- when a child or young person tells you that they know of someone who has been harmed (they may possibly be referring to themselves)
- when you hear about risk or harm to a child or young person from someone who is in a position to provide reliable information, perhaps a relative or friend, neighbour or sibling of a child who is at risk.

Mandatory reporting is the legislative requirement under the Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017 for certain people to report to the Department of Child Protection if they suspect on reasonable grounds that a child is or may be at risk of harm.

Mandatory reporters or notifiers are listed in Section 30 of the Children and Young People (Safety) Act and include-

- teachers employed as such in a school (within the meaning of the Education and Early Childhood Services (Registration and Standards) Act 2011) or a pre-school or kindergarten
- employees of, or volunteers in, an organisation that provides health, welfare, education, sporting or recreational, child care or residential services wholly or partly for children and young people, being a person who:
 - provides such services directly to children or young people, or
 - holds a management position in the organisation the duties of which include responsibility for, or direct supervision of, the provision of those services for children and young people.
- officer or employee of a prescribed organisation (as per section 114) who holds a management position in the organisation, the duties of which include direct responsibility for, or direct supervision of, the provision of services to children.

DUTY OF CARE

Mandatory notifiers have a duty of care that extends beyond a report to the Child Abuse Report Line (CARL). The needs of a child and their family may be supported through support services who can offer assistance to provide additional support, health services and counselling to families.

According to the Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017, mandated notifiers (including people employed in children's services and unpaid managers of these services) must make reports if they suspect on reasonable grounds a child or young person is, or may be, at risk of harm.

INDICATORS OF HARM OR RISK TO CHILDREN AND YOUNG PEOPLE

Types of risk and harm against children and young people are:

- sexual harm and grooming
- physical harm
- domestic and family violence
- emotional harm
- neglect
- substance use and/or mental health or social and emotional wellbeing that impacts the safety and wellbeing of the child or young person

(See: <https://www.childprotection.sa.gov.au/reporting-child-abuse/indicators-abuse-or-neglect>)

Notification must be made to the Child Abuse Report Line (CARL): 13 14 78. All concerns must be reported/notified where a child or young person is suspected to be in imminent danger of:

- harm
- injury

If the child is Aboriginal, you should also provide the Clan group of the child, if known.

Or if at immediate risk, report to South Australia Police (SAPOL) on 000. The person who identifies the harm is the person to make the report.

Under the Statutes Amendment (Child Sexual Abuse) Act 2021, failure to report child sexual abuse or failure to protect a child from sexual abuse are regarded as criminal offences and may result in a penalty of imprisonment.

DOCUMENTING A DISCLOSURE

A disclosure of harm emerges when someone, including a child or young person, tells you about harm that has happened or is likely to happen. When a child or young person discloses that he or she has experienced harm or are at risk of harm, it is an opportunity for an adult to provide immediate support and comfort and to assist in protecting the child or young person. It is also a chance to help the child or young person connect to professional services that can keep them safe, provide support and facilitate their recovery from trauma. Disclosure is about seeking support and your response can have a great impact on the child or young person's ability to seek further help and recover from the trauma.

WHEN RECEIVING A DISCLOSURE OF HARM:

If educators or staff have concerns about the safety of a child or young person, they will use the Child Protection notification checklist to record required information before phoning the Child Abuse Report Line.

- remember the child or young person may be experiencing a crisis, let the child or young person take his or her time
- give the child or young person their full attention, listen carefully
- control your own expressions of panic or shock, remain calm and find a private place to talk
- take what the child or young person says seriously
- let the child or young person use their own vocabulary
- tell the child or young person that this has happened to other children and that some adults do wrong things
- reassure the child or young person that they have done the right thing by telling you
- tell the child or young person you will do your best to support them but do not make promises you may not be able to keep
- honestly tell the child or young person what you plan to do next, explain to the child or young person that you need to tell someone who can help them
- use open ended questions to clarify the situation and gain sufficient information for Child Abuse Report line staff to make an informed assessment.
- only ask enough questions to confirm the need to report the matter because probing questions could cause distress, confusion and interfere with any later enquiries
- not attempt to conduct their own investigation or mediate an outcome between the parties involved
- not confront the perpetrator
- document as soon as possible so the details are accurately captured including:
 - time, date and place of the disclosure
 - 'word for word' what happened and what was said, including anything they (the staff member/educator) said and any actions that have been taken
 - date of report and signature.

Our OSHC Service is committed to providing support to children, young people, families, educators or staff who have made a report regarding child protection, with a focus on upholding strict confidentiality throughout the process. Our primary concern is the well-being and safety of the child or young person, and we will work closely with relevant authorities, professionals, and support networks to ensure that the child or young person's best interests are met throughout the process. Our dedicated support system will assist educators and staff in navigating this challenging process while safeguarding their privacy and professional well-being.

NOTIFICATIONS

THE APPROVED PROVIDER/NOMINATED SUPERVISOR WILL:

- notify the regulatory authority through the NQA-ITS (within 7 days) of any incident where it is reasonably believed that physical and/or sexual abuse of a child has occurred or is occurring while the child is being educated and cared for by the OSHC Service
- notify the regulatory authority through the NQA-ITS (within 7 days) of any allegation that sexual or physical abuse of a child has occurred or is occurring while the child is being educated and cared for by the OSHC Service
- notify the regulatory authority through the NQA-ITS (within 24 hours) of any complaints alleging that a serious incident has occurred or is occurring at the OSHC Service
- notify the regulatory authority through the NQA-ITS (within 24 hours) of a serious incident, which may include physical or sexual abuse where emergency services attended the OSHC Service.

CONFIDENTIALITY

It is important that any notification remains confidential, as it is vitally important to remember that no confirmation of any allegation can be made until the matter is investigated. The individual who makes the notification should not inform the suspected perpetrator (if known). This ensures the matter can be investigated without contamination of evidence or pre-rehearsed statements. It also minimises the risk of retaliation on the child for disclosing.

SHARING OF INFORMATION

The Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017 Act allows information to be shared with certain persons or bodies to perform functions related to providing services and support to children and young people, when the information relates to health, safety or wellbeing of children and young people, or if it is necessary to manage risks to children and young people.

The Information sharing and confidentiality practice guide supports staff and educators to:

- share information and collaborate with others to promote the safety and wellbeing of children, young people, families and carers
- know when information must be shared, may be shared or should not be shared
- understand the interconnection between the Children and Young People (Safety) Act 2017 and the Information Sharing Guidelines for Promoting Safety and Wellbeing (ISG) and how together, they provide a strong framework for appropriate information sharing

- understand the process and decision-making steps that must be followed when sharing information; and
- ensure children and young people's right to safety is paramount in decisions to share information and is not overridden by other considerations such as privacy or confidentiality.

PROTECTION FOR REPORTERS

All reporters are protected against retribution for making or proposing to make a report under section 163 of the Children and Young People \(Safety\) Act 2017.

A mandatory notifier's identity will not be disclosed unless:

- is made with the consent of the person who gave the notification, or
- is required or authorised by the Chief Executive or under the Act, or
- is made by way of evidence and the court or tribunal is satisfied the disclosure is of critical importance in the proceedings and failure to admit it would prejudice the proper administration of justice
- is reasonably necessary for the performance of the person's official functions and duties, or the functions and duties of a state authority relating to the protection of children and young people from harm, or
- is reasonably necessary to prevent harm, or further harm, being caused to a child or young person to whom the information relates.

BREACH OF CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

All educators, students, volunteers and staff working with children have a duty of care to support and protect children and young people: A breach of our Child Protection Policy may include if a person:

- does something that a reasonable person in that person's position would not do in a particular situation
- fails to do something that a reasonable person in that person's position would do in the circumstances or
- acts or fails to act in a way that causes harm to someone the person owes a duty of care.

A breach is any action or inaction by any individual within the service, including children and young people, that fails to comply with any part of the policy. Educators and staff must ensure they take all reasonable steps to ensure children are protected from harm and hazard at all times education and care is provided at the service. Educators, staff and families are encouraged to discuss with management any concerns regarding situations that may compromise or breach professional boundaries that may place children at risk of harm.

MANAGING A BREACH IN CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

Management will investigate any breaches to this policy in a fair, unbiased and supportive manner by:

- liaising with Department of Child Protection (DCP) for appropriate processes to ensure chain of evidence is not destroyed or compromised
- not investigating the allegation whilst the Child Abuse Report Line or the Police are conducting an investigation
- removal of any educator or staff member (who is the subject of allegations) from a role with contact with children or young people until authorities conclude their investigation

Management may undertake an investigation if the Child Abuse Report Line or the Police are not conducting their own investigation or if their action has concluded.

Management will:

- give the educator, staff member, student or volunteer the opportunity to provide their version of events
- document the details of the breach, including the versions of all parties
- record the outcome clearly and without bias
- ensure the matters in relation to the breach are kept confidential
- reach a decision based on discussion and consideration of all evidence.

OUTCOME OF A BREACH IN CHILD PROTECTION POLICY

Staff members or educators who fail to adhere to this policy may be in breach of their terms of employment. Visitors or volunteers who fail to comply to this policy may face termination of their engagement.

Depending on the nature of the breach outcomes may include:

- emphasising the relevant element of the child protection policy and procedure
- providing closer supervision
- further education and training
- providing mediation between those involved in the incident (where appropriate)
- disciplinary procedures, including dismissal of employment, if required
- reviewing current policies and procedures and developing new policies and procedures if necessary.

EDUCATING CHILDREN ABOUT PROTECTIVE BEHAVIOUR

Our program will educate children and young people

- about acceptable and unacceptable behaviour, and what is appropriate and inappropriate contact at an age-appropriate level and understanding
- about their right to feel safe at all times
- to say 'no' to anything that makes them feel unsafe or uncomfortable
- about how to use their own knowledge and understanding to feel safe
- to identify feelings that they do not feel safe
- the difference between 'good' and 'bad' secrets
- that there is no secret or story that cannot be shared with someone they trust
- that educators are available for them if they have any concerns
- to tell educators of any suspicious activities or people
- to recognise and express their feelings verbally and non-verbally
- that they can choose to change the way they are feeling.
